

The Magic Pencil

By Kadyn

Once upon a time when we got done with math, I was walking to Social Studies. Then I found a magic pencil that could shape shift. I could not tell anybody. I stuffed it in my backpack. After school I went home and saw what it could do. It could also go invisible and travel back and forth in time it was so cool. The next day I went to the corn field to try out its powers. An hour later, I went home to grab my bike to go south of town over the tracks. On the way he told me his name and where he was from. I learned that it could teleport. It was cool he went to the house and got a shovel to make him a home in the field. Tomorrow the house was gone! I was so sad that he was gone. Later that day then I went to find him but no luck it was gone for good. I found him at my house. I was so happy. Later I made a house in my backyard. I made it out of brick. He loved it and stayed for a long time. We had a lot of fun we visited the past and future. It was fun and cool to go back in time. We went back and watched World War 1 and 2 and the cold war and the civil war it was fun. I had a lot of fun with its powers. It even can grant a wish. I wanted a million dollars and he got it. I bought a dirt bike and a 2ds and a x box 360.
